(XLIIId YEAR.) THE (No. 2153.)

MARYLAND GAZETTE.

THURSDAY, APRIL 17, 1788.

LONDON, January 14.

THE preſent hoſtile ſtate of affairs in the Mediterranean has compelled the emperor of Morocco to ſue for alliances with the ſeveral chriſtian powers. This Mooriſh chief made his firſt application to England; but England he found had not forgot the treachery of this imperial Barbarian during the ſiege of Gibraltar.

The deſpotiſm of the emperor of Morocco not being ſufficient to awe the ſpirit of his revolting ſubjects, his majeſty has been under the neceſſity of granting to the governor of Tangiers the excluſive privilege of puniſhing any aggreſſor with death. This new privilege was announced to the people by a general diſcharge of the artillery.

Jan. 20. We hear that two of his Sicilian majeſty's gallies being on a cruiſe off Mogadore, on the coaſt of Algiers, purſued and took a pirate of twenty guns and one hundred men, who had come out of port that very morning. The prize was ſent to Naples; and whilſt the veſſel was lying at the Mole, under a guard of three hundred ſoldiers, a young nobleman, then bathing, was ſeized with a cramp, and immediately ſunk in the preſence of numbers, who attempted nothing for his relief. A Moor, who happened to ſee this unfortunate accident from the gunwale of the prize, inſtantly jumped into the water, ſwam towards the place where the nobleman went down, and in his riſe caught him in his arms, tied a handkerchief round his ſhoulder, one end of which he faſtened to his own, and thus embarraſſed, brought him ſafe on ſhore. The drowned perſon ſoon recovered, and was carried home in his father's carriage, which waited on the bank. The marquis de Palucchi, whoſe ſon was thus preſerved by a Barbarian, would not be outdone in generoſity. He immediately went to the palace, and being introduced by general Acton, an Engliſh gentleman in the king's ſervice, fell on his knees, and begged the liberty of the gallant Moor. Your requeſt, replied his majeſty, is both reaſonable and humane; the Moor is your's, and you may diſpoſe of him as you pleaſe. The remainder of the crew are mine, and perpetual ſlaves by the laws of war. But they are free from this moment. Ten righteous perſons could have ſaved Sodom from the wrath of the Almighty, and ſhall not one gallant and virtuous man, who has riſked his life for his enemy, and reſcued a fellow citizen from imminent death, merit the pardon of a few companions from an earthly monarch? Next day an order was publiſhed for releaſing the veſſel, which ſailed for Algiers amidſt the acclamations of the populace; and, by way of thanks, ſaluted the palace with twenty-five, and the city with twelve guns.

Feb. 4. It is reported, that recent advices had been received from our reſident at the court of Madrid, giving the more entire ſatisfaction relative to the treaty now on the tapis with that kingdom. We can only ſay, that theſe accounts are the moſt likely to be authentic, as we have long had repeated aſſurances through private channels, of the moſt favourable diſpoſition of the Spaniſh nation, in general towards a friendly intercourſe with this country.

Extract of a letter from Paris, January 20.

"Many people are uneaſy at not ſeeing the ambaſſadors of Tippoo Saib arrive, which is becauſe they do not know that on the 12th of July they were ſtill at the Iſle of France, ſo that it is probable they will not arrive this month. In the mean time every thing is prepared to receive theſe ambaſſadors in a manner capable of ſhewing their maſter how much we eſteem his alliance and friendſhip. His proceedings towards us, indeed, fully merit ſome particular diſtinctions. At the end of the war, Tippoo Saib gave the account of the ſupplies he had furniſhed our army with, which amounted to near ſix millions, ſterling, that among allies ſuch accounts ought not to be kept, and that he was the happieſt who could beſt ſerve the common cauſe. His ambaſſadors will, without doubt, appear in all the Aſiatic ſplendour, that we may judge by their treaſures, and the preſents they bring, which we are aſſured are worth near five millions, and Tippoo Saib has given them 18 millions for their own expences, that they may repreſent him in Europe in a proper manner. It is thought that one part of the ambaſſadors train which he ſent to the grand ſignior is ordered to come here to augment the train of his envoys; if that is the caſe we ſhall have Aſiatic feaſts and Indian tournaments, like thoſe exhibited at Conſtantinople.

"A veſſel from l'Orient, which left the Iſle of France the 28th of Auguſt, ſaw the ambaſſadors of Tippoo Saib land there the 20th of the ſame month. They are to ſtay there three months that they may not arrive here till the end of March or in April."

Extract of a letter from Langeac, Lower Auvergne, January 25.

"An enterpriſing Swiſs has made his appearance here, who pretends to have invented an inſtrument of war, which will diſcharge 300 balls in the ſpace of three minutes; that ten people, with this inſtrument, will do as much execution as a whole regiment. He is to make an experiment in the courſe of a fortnight. He comes from Friburg. Being aſked why he did not make trial of his inſtrument there, he anſwered, "that it would have coſt him his life." He has been in ſeveral actions, and has many ſcars about him."

PHILADELPHIA, April 4.

A letter from a gentleman in Holland, to his friend in the neighbourhood of New-Brunſwick, New Jerſey, mentions, that upwards of two hundred families of the patriot party have come to a determination of leaving that country, and partaking of the bleſſings of peace and liberty in this—This muſt be highly pleaſing to every generous mind, as it affords us a proſpect of ſeeing all our toils and labours in the field rewarded, and the places of thoſe heroes who have fallen in the defence of their country, filled by the oppreſſed of other nations, who have contributed not a little to the eſtabliſhment of our independence, and of erecting ſuch a ſtandard in this new world, as to make it at once an aſylum for all ranks who groan under the tyranny of uſurping princes. Amboy, we are told, is the place that has been mentioned as the moſt elegible ſpot for them to ſettle, as it has every advantage which a commercial people can wiſh.

April 9. We hear from Georgia, that the Indians have lately been very troubleſome in that quarter, and that they are frequently ſeen within twenty miles of Savannah.

A moſt extraordinary man, at preſent reſides at Hanwell, Middleſex, in Great-Britain. In 1731, John Dymond, a gardener's ſon, was born at Boſton, Lincolnſhire; in a month's time after his birth, he was deprived of his eye ſight by the ſmall-pox; one part of his employment at preſent is to teach children to read; and that he may not eat the bread of idleneſs, he has been lately at work in Mr. Harwood's houſe or park, at Hanwell. Both mind and body are laudably exerciſed; his favourite ſtudy is aſtronomy, and remarkable is the man's curioſity in attending to it, and ſkill in calculating and foretelling the eclipſes of the ſun and moon for many years to come. The late good tempered Daniel Burnaby, rector of Hanwell, in whoſe houſe he was firſt met with, took particular notice of his knowledge in aſtronomy, converſed much with him, and uſed to lend him books for ſome of his ſcholars to read to him. Dr. Glaſs, Mr. Burnaby's ſucceſſor, gratified him highly with Ferguſon's aſtronomical book. Dr. Halley's aſtronomical tables afford him the higheſt pleaſure. He is perfectly well acquainted with every walk in the environs of the village, and if he has occaſion to call at any houſe, knows exactly where to croſs. In the ſevereſt weather he never wears a hat, and it is only of late, that he has been prevailed on to walk with a ſtick, ſuch is the eſtimation of his character in the pariſh, that for many years they have defrayed the expence of his lodgings.

The ſhip Cheſapeake, Solomon Frazier, maſter, from Baltimore, bound to Havre-de-Grace, ſailed from the capes of Virginia 2d of March; on the 4th, in lat. 36. 10, long. 73. 00. W. in a violent gale of wind ſhe loſt her main and mizen maſts; the ſhip's bends parted from her counter ſeveral inches, then ſcudding before the wind, the pumps conſtantly going, till the 8th, when having upwards of four feet water in her, the crew were taken off the wreck by captain Zadock Allen, in the ſchooner Jolly Farmer, from Cape François, bound to Martha's Vineyard, at which place they arrived on the 22d of March.

April 16. A London paper mentions, that the child of a poor woman in Calne, Wiltſhire, by ſome accident, ſwallowed a large crooked pin, to which it had tied a piece of thread by way of play-thing; the mother, in her fright, endeavouring to pull it up, faſtened it in ſuch a manner, that ſhe could not by any means effect her purpoſe, but was obliged to ſend for a ſurgeon, who ordered a hole to be made through a very ſmall piſtol bullet, and having paſſed the remaining end of the thread through it, the ball ſlid down, and by its weight looſing the pin, both were drawn out without further difficulty.

Extract from the European Magazine.

"The graſs-hoppers, that have for ages been accounted as a peſtilence, are very common in Aſia. An enormous ſwarm of them ſometimes darkens the ſun, and deſtroy every thing as they go. The Africans, and ſeveral kinds of people in Aſia, and particularly the Arabs, make uſe of them for food. In their markets they have conſiderable quantities of them broiled or fryed. They are alſo ſalted for ſhipping deſtined to hot countries. They are likewiſe ſerved up with the deſert, or with coffee. As this inſect appears to chew the cud, it is perhaps the reaſon why the Jews and Arabs range them among the claſs of pure animals. Their taſte is very much like a ſhrimp, but is more delicate eating; and they are accounted a great reſtorative."

ANNAPOLIS, April 17.

The ſhip Sally, captain Wallace, from Havre-de-Grace, is arrived here.

Copy of a letter from Sir H. Parker, on behalf of the commiſſioners of longitude, appointed according to act of parliament of Great Britain.

FOR SALE, at colonel Loyd's, on Wye-river, ABOUT 4000 buſhels of Indian corn.—For terms apply to the ſubſcriber on the premiſes.

4 X RICHARD GRACE.

Annapolis, April 8, 1788.

THE honourable the chancellor having appointed the subscriber trustee for the creditors of William Biggs, in order to enable me to execute the said trust, notice is hereby given to all persons indebted to the said William Biggs, that their accounts are now in the hands of the subscriber, to whom they are requested to make immediate payment, and prevent further trouble, and those having just claims are requested to make them known, that a proper dividend may be made, and the business closed as soon as possible.

To be sold, on the 6th of May next, on the premises, a valuable lot of ground on lease in this city, it is a corner lot, and near the new market-house, 80 feet front on Church-street, 180 feet on Green-street, is now occupied by William Biggs and Simon Retallick, with the following improvements thereon, viz. a dwelling and store house about 65 feet front on Church-street, with a good kitchen, and other convenient buildings, one dwelling house 26 feet front on Green-street, with a kitchen, one negro woman, and two young negro boys, a billiard table, a chaise, horse and harness, and all the household furniture of said William Biggs, consisting of feather beds, tables, chairs, and kitchen furniture, &c. Likewise sundry merchandise, consisting of a number of small articles too tedious to mention.

The creditors of said William Biggs are requested to meet at Annapolis the day before the sale.

2 JAMES WILLIAMS.

By virtue of a writ of venditioni exponas to me directed, will be sold, on Tuesday the 22d of April, at 4 o'clock, P. M. on the premises,

PART of a lot of ground in the city of Annapolis, with the improvements thereon, lying in Prince-George's-street, adjoining Dr. James Murray's, taken in execution as the property of Thomas Rutland, and to be sold to satisfy a debt due to James Little.

5X DAVID STEUART, sheriff.

Charles county, March 6, 1788.

WE intend to petition the legislature at the next session, that a law may pass, empowering the justices of the said county to assess on the inhabitants thereof a sum of money or tobacco, sufficient to cover the tobacco which may appear to have been lost from Pomonkey warehouse, during the tumults of the late war.

ANNE DENT, administratrix.
3 THEODORE DENT, administrator, of PETER DENT, late inspector.

March 24, 1788.

THE subscriber, a resident of Charles county, being unable to discharge the several claims against him, hereby gives notice to all whom it may concern, that he intends to prefer a petition to the next sitting court that may happen after this advertisement has been published six weeks in the Maryland Gazette, soliciting the benefit of an act of assembly, entitled, an act respecting insolvent debtors.

3 JOHN GIBSON, jun.

2 NICHOLAS SHEPHEARD.

Anne Arundel county, Head of South river, April 9, 1788.

PAUL JONES,

WILL stand at the subscriber's plantation, and will cover mares at the moderate price of two guineas the season; he is a beautiful bay, and in high order. Paul Jones was got by Specimen, Specimen was got by Old Fearnought, out of Jenny Dismal; Specimen was full brother to Fitzhugh's Regulus, and Harris's Eclipse. Paul Jones's dam was got by the old imported horse Wildair, and she was out of Delancey's imported Cub mare. I can say nothing more in regard to his pedigree, but believe it to be just. Good pasturage may be had, and under a good fence, and that gratis; good care shall be taken, but will not be answerable for escapes, or other accidents that may happen. Any mare that ever won a purse shall be covered gratis also.

2 HENRY ONEAL WELSH.

The Commissioners of the Board of Treasury hereby give notice,

3 JOSEPH HAGAN, Carpt.

Prince-George's county, April 2, 1788.

Nottingham Races.

TO be run for, on Monday the 12th day of May next, a subscription PURSE of FIVE HUNDRED BUSHELS of CORN, the four mile heats, free for any horse, mare or gelding, aged horses carrying nine stone, and to fall agreeable to the rules of the Annapolis jockey club.

On Tuesday the 13th will be run for, over the same course, heats three miles, a subscription PURSE of ONE HUNDRED BUSHELS of CORN, and the entrance money of both days, free as above, the winning horse the first day only excepted, aged horses carrying nine stone, and three year old colts a feather. The horses to be entered with Mr. John Nevill on the Saturday preceding the race, and for the first day's race three pounds entrance, second day on shilling in the pound; the corn to be valued at fifteen shillings per barrel. If the horses are not entered as above, double entrance must be paid at the post.

Judges will be appointed to determine all disputes that may arise.

As this is a subscription purse and intended chiefly to amuse, and as well dress'd riders greatly add to the satisfaction of the spectators, it will be expected that no gentleman will attempt to mount his rider without his being uniformly dressed.

MARYLAND GAZETTE.

SUPPLEMENT to the MARYLAND GAZETTE.

THURSDAY, APRIL 17, 1788.

VENETIAN,

WILL stand at my own plantation, at Mount Vernon, next spring season, three pounds silver sterling, the mares to be sent, and paid for, before they are covered. He is a beautiful dapple grey, about fifteen hands one inch high, with a bright mane and tail, in proportions and figure equal to any horse in America. He was bred by Sir Edward Harper, and got by Regulus, his dam by Godolphin Arabian, his dam by Crab, his grand dam by Dimock's Dimple, which was got by Leeds's Arabian, his dam by old Shaker, a son of the Darcy Yellow Turk, out of a daughter of Bustard, got by Alcham, out of the dam of Lord Bolingbroke's Old Fox, out of the grand dam of Childers. It is unnecessary to say any thing in favour of the get of this horse, as his performances, every one knows, that has seen him, thinks him the handsomest ever imported into this land. He covers two guineas the season, and eight shillings the single leap. Grass for mares at half a dollar per week; but will not be answerable for escapes or accidents; no mares will be served, without the money is left with them.

JOHN CRAGGS.

March 10, 1788.

ROYAL GIFT,

and the

KNIGHT of MALTA,

Two valuable imported jack-asses,

WILL cover mares and jennies at Mount Vernon the ensuing spring, for (on account of the scarcity of cash) three guineas the season, and two shillings and six-pence to the groom, for his care and attention to the females.

The first is of the most valuable race in the kingdom of Spain—the other is of the best breed in the island of Malta.

ROYAL GIFT (now 8 years old) has increased in size since he covered last season, and not a jenny, and hardly a mare to which he went, missed.

The KNIGHT of MALTA will be four years old this spring, about fourteen hands high, most beautifully formed for an ass, and extremely light, active and sprightly; comparatively speaking resembling a fine courser.

These two jacks seem to be designed for different purposes, but equally valuable; the first, by his weight and great strength, to get mules for slow and heavy draught; the other, by his activity and sprightliness, for quicker movements. The value of mules on account of their longevity, strength, hardiness and cheap keeping, is too well known to need description.

MAGNOLIO,

STANDS at the same place for two guineas the season, and two shillings and six-pence to the groom. The money, in both cases, to be paid before the jennies or mares are taken away, as no accounts will be kept.

Good pasture, well enclosed, will be provided at half a dollar per week, for the conveniency of those who incline to leave their mares or jennies; and every reasonable care will be taken of them; but they will not be insured against escapes, accidents or mischances.

A Geographical and Topographical

HISTORY

AMERICA,

Containing a Description of the Historical

A DESCRIPTION, accurate and complete, of the thirteen United States of America, separately and collectively, and the dependencies.

In justification of the attempt, to endeavour to furnish one so necessary, and important to publicity, the Author can only observe, that from the situation which he has always occupied in public life, which has given him the opportunity of conversing with characters of the first information, and of consulting the most authentic documents, he is fully satisfied from every observation which could impede his progress in completing this great work, with ease and precision.

Independent of that affluence of materials which he derives from a profusion of manuscript on this subject, it is his intention, as well as duty, to collect information from persons in the respective states.

CONTENTS.

The history of North America.

The history of South America.

The history of every state in the union, from personal observation, and such documents, journals, and records as may appear conducive to complete an historical treatise of such importance.

This part of the history will necessarily assume a biographical form; as the life, death, and misfortunes of illustrious characters connected in the memorable contention for American independence, will be delineated—without prejudice [illegible] prejudice stifle, at this hour of calmness and candour, would not [illegible] of partiality, or misrepresentation.

CONDITIONS.

1. That this history shall consist of four octavo volumes, each containing four hundred pages, printed on fine paper, and delivered to subscribers at [illegible] dollars.

2. That three volumes shall be delivered to the subscribers in the year 1789, and the fourth in the year following, for which they are to pay [illegible] dollars, payable on the delivery of the work.

3. That the whole will contain, exclusive of maps, a variety of elegant engravings, taken from the Abbe Clavigero's new history of Mexico.

4. The fourth volume will then be put to the press, and be delivered on the payment of one dollar. This is to consider a map of the western territory.

5. As the whole of the events of the late war between the United States of America and Great Britain, and the several revolutions which have happened in the different governments, may require explanation, the author intends to continue subscribers in suspending the publication of this history, for two years, considerably less than the time employed in the publication of similar performances.

These volumes are to be printed by Messrs. Prichard and Hall, in Philadelphia.

The whole of this history will be collected, digested and compiled by Jedediah Morse, A.M. author of the American Geography, &c. &c. &c. late minister of the congregational church in Charlestown, near Boston, and a traveller in America.

7 JOHN PARNHAM.

ROEBUCK.

THE beautiful thorough bred horse ROEBUCK, ten years old next spring, the property of the subscriber, will cover this ensuing season at the subscriber's plantation in Charles county, at five pounds current money a mare, but if paid by the first day of August next, three pounds, and a dollar to the groom, will be covered in lieu of new gamads. It is useless to insert his pedigree, as it is so well known, but is easy to them at his stable. Good pasturage is provided for mares that come a distance, grass, and great care will be taken of them, but will not be answerable for accidents or escapes.
